

CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS ISSUE

NASALISATION AND NASAL ASSIMILATION IN AKAN

Author: John Odoom
Institutional Affiliation: University of Education, Winneba
Current Status: Assistant Lecturer
Email Address: oklinsmann@yahoo.com
Bio Statement: John Odoom is a lecturer at the University of Education, Winneba, Faculty of Ghanaian Languages Education, Department of Akan-Nzema. He specializes in Akan phonetics and phonology and general linguistics. In particular, his research focuses on Akan vowel harmony. Other areas include morphology and syntax, sociolinguistics, onomasiology, and literature.

Author: Kwasi Adomako
Institutional Affiliation: University of Education, Winneba
Current Status: Senior Lecturer
Email Address: knyantakyi78@gmail.com
Bio Statement: Kwasi Adomako is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Akan-Nzema, University of Education, Winneba. He holds a PhD in Linguistics and a BA (Linguistics & Theatre Arts) from University of Ghana, Legon and MPhil in Theoretical Linguistics, University of Tromso. His research focuses on the phonology, morphology, and language use.

SOME NZEMA PHILOSOPHICAL ISSUES PORTRAYED IN THEIR PROVERBS

Author: Rahinatu Taiba Ibrahim
Institutional Affiliation: University of Education, Winneba
Current Status: Assistant Lecturer
Email Address: ibrahimtaiba02@gmail.com / rtibrahim@uew.edu.gh
Bio Statement: Rahinatu Taiba Ibrahim is an Assistant Lecturer at the University of Education, Winneba. She currently holds an M.Phil. in Ghanaian Language Studies from the University of Education, Winneba where she also received her B. A. degree in Nzema Education. She has immense research interests in the syntax and semantics of Nzema. She has worked on the syntax and semantics of phrasal verbs, reflexives and inherent complement verbs in Nzema.

Author: John Nyame
Institutional Affiliation: University of Education, Winneba
Current Status: Assistant Lecturer
Email Address: mr.nyame@gmail.com / jnyame@uew.edu.gh
Bio Statement: John Nyame is an Assistant Lecturer in the Department of Akan-Nzema Education, University of Education, Winneba. He currently holds an M.Phil. in Ghanaian Language Studies and a BA (Nzema Education) from University of Education, Winneba. His research focuses on literature and linguistics, specifically phonetics and phonology, syntax, semantics and sociolinguistics.

Author: Mohammed Yakub
Institutional Affiliation: University of Education, Winneba
Current Status: Assistant Lecturer
Email Address: yakubm88@gmail.com
Bio Statement: Mohammed Yakub is an Assistant Lecturer in the Department of Akan-Nzema Education, College of Languages Education, University of Education, Winneba, Ghana. His research interests are morpho-syntax, cognitive linguistics, ethno-pragmatics and discourse analysis.

Author: Kwasi Adomako
Institutional Affiliation: University of Education, Winneba
Current Status: Senior Lecturer
Email Address: knyantakyi78@gmail.com
Bio Statement: Kwasi Adomako is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Akan-Nzema, University of Education, Winneba. He holds PhD in Linguistics and BA (Linguistics & Theatre Arts) from University of Ghana, Legon and MPhil in Theoretical Linguistics, University of Tromso. His research focuses on the phonology, morphology, and language use.

Author: Esther Nana Anima Wiafe-Akenten
Institutional Affiliation: University of Ghana, Legon
Current Status: Lecturer
Email Address: wiafeakenten1@gmail.com
Bio Statement: Esther Nana Anima Wiafe-Akenten is a Lecturer in the Department of Theatre Arts, School of Performing Arts University of Ghana, Legon, Accra. She holds a PhD in Ghanaian language and her research areas include ethnography of communication, pragmatics, sociolinguistics and Akan literature.

FROM BULA MATARI TO BLACK HOLE OF CALCUTTA: AN ETHNOLINGUISTIC ANALYSIS OF EUPHEMISMS IN A. B CRENTSIL'S MOSES

Author: Patrick Nana Wonkyi
Institutional Affiliation: University of Education, Winneba.
Current Status: Lecturer
Email Address: pnwonkyi@uew.edu.gh
Bio Statement: Patrick Nana Wonkyi is a Lecturer at the College of Languages Education, University of Education, Winneba, Ghana. He specializes in Akan literature and linguistics, specifically semantics, and sociolinguistics. In particular, his research focuses on the linguistic aspects of indigenous Akan occupations.

Author: Catherine Ekua Mensah
Institutional Affiliation: University of Cape Coast, Ghana
Current Status: Assistant Lecturer
Email Address: catherine.mensah@ucc.edu.gh
Bio Statement: Catherine Ekua Mensah is with the Department of Ghanaian Languages and Linguistics, University of Cape, Ghana as an Assistant Lecturer. Currently, she is a PhD candidate in Linguistics at the Department of Linguistics, University of Ghana. Her research interests include language and health, ethnography of communication, sociolinguistics, Akan linguistics (morpho-semantics) and discourse analysis.

Author:

Institutional Affiliation:

Current Status:

Email Address:

Bio Statement:

Charity Tsiwah

Ola College of Education, Ghana.

Tutor

charitytsiwah@gmail.com

Charity Tsiwah is with the Department of Languages at Ola College of Education as a Tutor. Currently, she is a PhD candidate in Linguistics at the Department of Linguistics, University of Ghana. Her research interests include ethnography of communication, sociolinguistics and syntax.

GJoLLL FRAMEWORK

1. Name of Journal:

Ghana Journal of Languages, Linguistics and Literature (GJoLLL)

2. Publisher:

Faculty of Ghanaian Languages, University of Education, Winneba, Ajumako Campus

3. Email: gjolll@uew.edu.gh

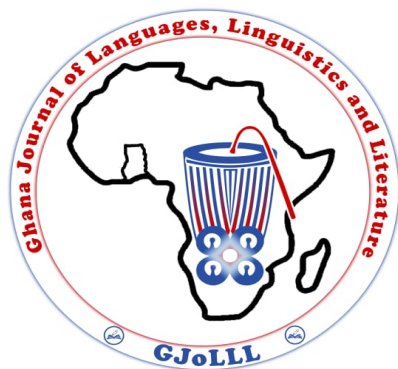

4. Scope of journal:

Publish:

- papers on all aspects of Ghanaian and African languages, linguistics and literature;
- occasionally also publish papers written in Ghanaian (African) languages in as much as it is possible to get qualified blind expert reviewers for the language and topic;
- book reviews and
- editorials of interest to the community.

5. Logo:

A talking drum insert in an African map shrouded in UEW colours

6. Frequency of publication:

Twice a year (First Issues are regular publications while Second Issues are dedicated to research written in Ghanaian and African languages as far as practicable).

7. Submission procedure:

Only online.

Create a user account or log in at <https://journals.uew.edu.gh/index.php/gjolll> to submit papers and follow review process online.

8. Format of publication:

Only digital.

GJoLLL STYLESHEET

Please follow these guidelines closely when preparing your paper for submission.

- Only articles and papers that have not been published elsewhere or that are not currently under consideration for publication in another journal or book will be accepted.
- All papers for publication should be sent to the Editor-in-chief at gjolll@uew.edu.gh
- The working language of GJoLLL is British English.
- However, papers may be submitted in other languages with the express permission of the Editorial Board and based on the availability of qualified language specific reviewers.
- Articles should not exceed 10,000 words in length double spaced (including end notes and references), on A4 size paper, and should include an abstract of up to 300 words in both English (and the approved language).
- The first page of articles for GJoLLL should contain the title but not the author's name.
- The article should have a separate page with the title and abstract.
- The article should also have a separate page with author details including the title and the author's name with full contact information including mailing address, phone numbers and email address.
- Please ensure all identifying information is removed from your documents.
- Submissions should use APA style, including a complete list of references. Footnotes may be used where necessary to provide further edification.
- Illustrative quotations less than two lines long should be within double quotation marks "...” and not separated from the text.
- Longer quotations may be set out and indented on both sides, without quotation marks. The source reference should come immediately after the quotation or in the sentence immediately before it.
- Figures and diagrams should be drawn in black ink on white background and require little or no reduction in size. Illustrations should also be submitted electronically. Colour may only be used in exceptional circumstances.
- Words or short passages in languages other than English may be included, but if you use a non-standard font with your word processor a copy of the font should also be included in your electronic submission.
- Words in any language other than English should be italicised.
- English glosses of italicized texts everywhere in paper should appear in 'single inverted quotation marks'. Example: From Twi (Kwa): abofra 'child'.
- Doulos SIL is preferred for African language texts.
- GJoLLL checks for plagiarism. Any submission found to have been plagiarized, including self-plagiarism, either in whole or in part, will be rejected.
- Avoid or minimize self-citation. Where it is necessary to cite your own work, delete your name and other identifying information and place substitute words in brackets (e.g., author, name deleted). Do not include the reference in the reference list, but remember to include it before submitting your final draft if the paper is accepted.
- Failure to follow the stylesheet could result in rejection of submitted manuscripts.

Mailing address:

The Editor-in-Chief, GJoLLL, P. O. Box 72, UEW, Ajumako Campus

Email: gjolll@uew.edu.gh

ISSN-L: 2955-7941